

CONNECTION TEAM REPORTS

NOVEMBER 2007

Cheshire Career Center FCCLA

Reporters: Megan Chickering and Krista Sullivan

We made 3 baskets full of food to donate to local needy families in our area, through Keene Daycare. We worked on other community service projects like, making "big books" for Wheelock Preschool, (a preschool in a local elementary school) and making holiday centerpieces and thanksgiving cards for the Harborside Nursing Home here in Keene.

Monday December 10th, several students will go shopping with Mrs. Graves to buy presents for needy children in our area. The other students will be at school, baking dog biscuits to be donated to the Monadnock Humaine Society.

We continue to pass a basket around the classroom periodically, in efforts to raise money for Feed the Children.

We put in an order for sweatshirts recently, they should be arriving soon.

Monthly meetings are being held with officers.

Lurgio Lions FCCLA

In the month of November, the Lurgio Lions FCCLA had three meetings held in our FACS classroom. The total affiliation as of today is 17 members. Throughout the month, our chapter brainstormed ideas for fundraising, community service projects, and other activities. We also distributed letters that are to go to businesses for the Feed The Children campaign. The FCCLA Lurgio Lions are planning to make blankets and quilts for babies, have a holiday party and a yankee gift swap, and we will volunteer at the soup kitchen.

Pinkerton Academy FCCLA

Pinkerton FCCLA has had a busy month. Our Yankee Candle fundraiser orders have come in. Many chapter members have been working on Power of One and Katie Kluk and Bryce Williams have finished their first module of Power of One. We also have a few members that are very close to finishing that first module. Pinkerton FCCLA is providing holiday gifts for children in the TIPS program (Teen Information for Parenting Success). We will also be baking gingerbread cookies for their holiday party. For our own holiday party we are having a Yankee Swap and making gingerbread houses out of graham crackers. We have a busy holiday season planned.

Spartans FCCLA

We have had three meetings in November, all of which were held in Room 129, 75% of our members attended these meetings. Our total affiliation as of today is sixteen members. We have set a date for our induction ceremony and everyone is excited to finish planning the event. We have also planned a holiday party where as a chapter we will go bowling.

We are still in the planning stages for our community service projects and fundraisers. We plan to raise money for Feed the Children with our fish tank fundraiser which we hope to take place in February. To raise funds for our chapter we have brainstormed and discussed several ideas. We hope to have our annual rock-a-thon and to host a giant musical chairs tournament.

Our next meeting is planned for December 5, we hope to discuss other community service ideas and project ideas, so that we can get things rolling for spring conference.
